SAFETY

is also FIRST

Dear Valued Customer,

With the high price of gasoline, waste companies are forced to raise their prices for dumpsters. This makes it difficult for contractors to maintain their jobsites clean.

If a jobsite is not clean at all times, there is a greater risk for an accident to occur. To offset this challenge, we have made an investment in the purchase our own dumpsters so that we may never compromise the safety of our workers.

Best regards,

Victor Romero
